Annotation: This article focuses on youth education and development, first of all, the legal basis for organizing work in this area is constantly being improved, including the Law of the Republic of Uzbekistan "On the Basics of State Policy Regarding Youth" covered issues of legal and social protection of young people, support of their talent.

Key words: child rights, education, innovation, pretend, reform, constructive, social state, human rights.

Introduction: In order to ensure the bright future of our independent Uzbekistan, it is necessary to educate and bring up the representatives of the nation who are both deep-minded and spiritually mature. Young people make up more than half of the population of our Republic, 60%. Also, the formation of any new values depends on the understanding of the national idea, trust and faith of the youth. In today's era of globalization, the need for the national idea and its role in the life of the society is incomparable, because on the one hand, the national idea looks at the youth as its object, and on the other hand, the youth are the advanced developers of the national idea and are considered to be the bearers of the future generation. The more the youth are armed with the national idea and grasp it, the more the society will progress.

The law "On guarantees of children's rights" regulates the powers of authorities and management bodies in this regard, as well as other social relations in the field.

Materials and methods: Jadidal Abdurauf Fitrat, it is impossible to reform the society and direct its development towards development without educating the young generation in the right way. He put forward the idea that the fate of the nation depends on the state of his family. Realizing that the role of the motherland and the people in the development of the young generation to become mature and perfect people in the future, the legal interests of people and citizens, women's rights, especially gender equality, are analyzed. Reforms to strengthen human rights serve as the main criterion in the construction of the state and society.

A person's self-awareness determines the interdependence of the national idea and youth. According to the ideas that the society offers to the youth through the national ideology, it will have ideologically patriotic, fully mature and competitive young people who have acquired modern knowledge and are suitable for today's environment.

While the words pride, pride and pride mean the same thing, they also mean different concepts to a certain extent.

That is why the mentality of the Uzbek nation is the strongest and strongest. Their historical path, geographical living conditions, sunny days, fertile land, muddy rivers, and ancient monuments testify to the high intellectual abilities and spiritual powers of this people.

The attitude of the peoples of our country to the life, humanity, nature, society, Shariat for many thousands of years has been this kind of work and creativity, kindness and calmness, respect for the elder, respect for the younger, compromise, and finding time and space for thoughts and reflections in every tense situation. shaped and polished.

Today, the interest and attention to show the effectiveness of education using interactive methods (innovative pedagogical and information technologies) in the educational process is growing day by day. Classes using modern technologies are aimed at making students search for the acquired knowledge, independently study and analyze it, and make wrong conclusions by themselves. In this process, the teacher performs the task of development of the individual and the team, management, guidance. In such an educational process, the student becomes the main figure. Today, the main reason why special attention is paid to the use of pedagogical technologies in the educational process of educational institutions is the following:

First of all, there is a wide range of opportunities to implement personality-developing education in pedagogical technologies. The Law on Education pays special attention to the implementation of developmental education.

Secondly, pedagogical technologies provide an opportunity to widely introduce a systematic activity approach to the educational process.

Thirdly, the pedagogical technology encourages the teacher to pre-design the technological chain, starting with the goals of the educational process, and ending with the creation of a diagnostic system and control of this process.

Fourthly, since the pedagogical technology is based on the use of new tools and information methods, their use. The young generation, who are the future of our tomorrow, should definitely grow up as people worthy of New Uzbekistan. It is widely used to strengthen independence from national and universal laws of our development. Today, we must honor the sacred national pride in the hearts, minds, and thoughts of young people, the dear place where our navel blood dripped - the motherland. Every country in the world has the will to preserve its independence. This naturally creates healthy, friendly competition. National development depends on people's creativity and organization. If one is quick and proactive, there will be progress. Therefore, we must not be indifferent to the future of New Uzbekistan, closely connecting our goals with the motherland.
